

Global Health Careers Day 2009

global health directions for doctors and surgeons in training

Join us for a day of inspirational speakers, workshops and discussions - get the insight and advice you need to to pursue a global health career.

A programme featuring experts with a wealth of international experience from all the main fields of medicine and surgery.

Find out more about volunteering, health links, working in the developing world and global health in the UK.

www.almamata.net/careers

eTickets only £28

